I am writing in whole hearted support of this proposed development. It is exactly the kind of housing Bend desperately needs. We also need to disperse density throughout the city. As a resident of the East Side we have seen our share of denser development. It is time that The West side sees its fair share.

Additionally I would like to point out that higher density housing of this sort uses less resources including water. It also helps to make mass transit more Likely. I would encourage the developer to disconnect the cost of parking from the units and give the option for residents to pay for parking if it will be needed. I hope that this project will be approved as quickly as possible so that it can be built and help with the housing crisis we are experiencing.
